Talmudic Folktales

Rabbi Thomas has collected dozens of wonderfully subversive, multi-vocal folktales from the Talmud. These tales cover a wide range of universal human questions which the rabbis felt safest embedding in stories, rather than in halachic (legal) discourse. Texts are in English and Hebrew and the teaching is interactive and discussion based. Topics include: Free-will vs. Predetermination, Miracles: Can't live with 'em, Can't live without 'em, Confronting mortality, and more.

Rabbi David Thomas is rabbi emeritus at Congregation Beth El in Sudbury, MA. Rabbi Thomas is known for his social action and racial justice initiatives as well as leading his congregation to a vote declaring a Sanctuary in Support of Immigrants in 2017. Drawn to study of the Hasidic masters, his teaching is engaging and participatory.

Rabbi Thomas is a Senior Rabbinic Fellow of the Shalom Hartman Institute and has served as a board member for the CCAR and is currently co-chair of the Joint Commission on Rabbinic Mentoring. David recently moved to Minneapolis, MN to spend more time with his grandchildren. He remains active in rabbinic life by mentoring colleagues and teaching in the vibrant Jewish community of the Twin Cities.
